THE GARDNER AFTERMATH.

The following clippings from New York papers on the McGovern-Gardner fight, will show the narrow escape the champion had from defeat in the first round and the tributes to Oscar's gameness:

No more remarkable exhibition of gameness than that given by Oscar in the second round was ever seen. McGovern's swings on the jaw and rib-rotters were simply heartbreaking, but Gardner received them like a Spartan. Early in the action he was floored with a left on the tip of the jaw, took nine seconds and came up smiling. Again Terry laid him low, and in due time the "Omaha Kid" was looking for more trouble.

The few who had backed him kissed their hands to their wagers and joined in the deafening applause that the McGovernites accorded Gardner's gameness. It was astonishing. It was evidence of something more than perfect physical condition—heart.—New York World.

The battle lasted six minutes and nineteen seconds. There was one sensational incident in it—about ten seconds, when it looked as if the Brooklyn boy who had won the featherweight championship from Dixon might yield it to Gardner. Thirty seconds after the opening of the first round Gardner swung his left to the jaw and McGovern dropped as if he had been hit by a pile driver.

In a twinkling the house was in an uproar. The blow dazed McGovern, without robbing him of any of his great strength. As he went to the floor he grasped Gardner's left leg with both hands and hung to it—hung to it until he gained his feet, thus committing a foul. Referee Johnnie White contented himself with breaking McGovern's hold and cautioning him.

For ten seconds McGovern's head was in a whirl. Then he came to himself, and with set, determined face and clenched teeth he set out to whip his man. Gardner drove his left to the eye clean and Terry jumped in with a right to the body. They clinched and roughed it until the referee broke them. Then they stood off, each crouched low, and set for attack or defense. As one spectator put it, they "looked like two game cocks." Gardner was the first to get an opening. His left again found Terry's face and again Terry bowed in with crushing blows at close quarters. While they were fighting at short range Gardner slipped to the floor, but got up instantly the gong sounded and the round was over.—New York Press.

Terry McGovern, the champion featherweight pugilist of the world, had a narrow escape from defeat at the hands of Oscar Gardner. After sustaining five knock-downs in the second round the westerner had no chance. It was in the first round, however, that McGovern came within a shade of losing his title. Gardner, who has always been noted for his punching power, managed to catch the champion on the point of the jaw with a right-hand swing as the men were in a fierce exchange of short-arm punches. Had this blow been delivered when the men were not half clinched McGovern might have been put to sleep, but it was the punch was glancing, yet it sent him to the boards. Terry for the first time in his life was rattled, so much so that he took hold of Gardner's leg and almost upset the "Kid" as he was trying to get to his feet. During the balance of the round it looked as if Gardner had a chance, but as soon as McGovern recovered his wonderful speed and strength he showed beyond a doubt that he is the most remarkable fighter in the world at the weight.—New York Sun.

It was not Gardner's fault. He tried his hardest, and Gardner's hardest was until last night a considerable quantity; but he might as well have tried to hold a live electric wire as Terry McGovern. McGovern plunged through his guard as if Gardner's hands had been hobbled to his knees. After the first round it was merely an exhibition of bag punching, and the bag was the once redoubtable Omaha Kid.

The first round was different. Then it really looked like a fight. The two men crouched in almost the same position and fenced for an opening. McGovern thought he had found it, but he didn't. What he found was a crack on the jaw from Gardner's left that sent him to the floor.

He was up in a couple of seconds, and was holding his adversary's leg. Whether this was a bit of prize ring humor or an inadvertence nobody seemed to know, but it was one of the funniest things ever seen in the ring. This was the only time Gardner had what might be called a speaking part.—New York Journal.

John T. Ryan's Views.

John T. Ryan, one of the first of the party of Wheelingites to return from New York, is firmly of the opinion that Oscar Gardner was cheated out of the winner's end by Referee White, in the first round, and the New York Press, in its account, seems to lean that way. However, Ryan says McGovern was too much for Oscar, whom he hurled around like a toy. "Too good" says that McGovern, who celebrated his twentieth birthday by defeating Gardner, is a handsome young fellow, as strong as Sandow, but that his countenance changes when he begins to fight, becoming a veritable demon, a la Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde.

McGovern and Lenny.

PHILADELPHIA, March 11.—Terry McGovern and Eddy Lenny, of this city, have been matched for a six round bout at Industrial Hall here on Thursday night, March 15. Lenny believes he can hold the champion featherweight off for six rounds.

BASE BALL.

Says Sunday's Columbus Dispatch: There have been no decidedly new developments in the local base ball situation, but things have happened during the week which lead me to believe that, after all, John L. Riley, of this city, will be in charge of the Columbus club when the Inter-state league flag drops.

The events of the week have been such as to indicate that Riley will be able to secure grounds for his club, which will meet his requirements and as this has been the only thing that has been holding him off, I look for an announcement within the next few days to the effect that Magnate Riley is sending out contracts.

It was rumored last night that Riley had been approached by the Columbus street railway and that one of the officials of that company had offered to build a fence around any park that Riley might secure if he would not give up in his efforts to make base ball a success in Columbus. Mr. Riley could not be seen after this fact was reported, and for that reason it was impossible to substantiate the report. However, it is understood that the Columbus street railway feels that any other man who might place an Inter-state league team in this city might not remain throughout the season and as they are anxious to keep the capital city on the base ball map, they were led to make such an offer to Mr. Riley.

The local base ball public will certainly feel relieved when it can be definitely announced that the Inter-state league club which is to represent this city is to be in the hands of local parties who will take a pride in having the name of Columbus as near the top of that percentage table as possible.

The Toledo team has been made up and will be as follows: First base, Chip Hannaford; second base, Erv Beck; third base, Bert Schills; short-stop, W. J. Kane; left field, Will Smith; right field, W. G. Hartman; center field, Bob Gilks; catchers, Stanley Arthur, O. Ricker and Chip Hannaford; pitchers, Bob Ewing, L. D. Witte, Ike Butler, Harry Blum and Addie Joss; utility man, W. S. Alexander.

THE WHEELINGS.

Are Expected to Figure Prominently in the International Bowling Contests Next Summer—Mr. Karpf's Opinion of the Local Ten-Pinners.

Manager William Fette, of the All-Wheeling bowling team, has received from Samuel Karpf, secretary of the International bowling tournament, which is to be pulled off July 15-22, at Union Hill Park, New York, acknowledgment of the entry of the All-Wheelings. Mr. Karpf takes occasion to say:

"Personally, I wish to congratulate you, as well as the Wheeling bowlers, for the interest they have taken in this competition, and hope that their entry will bring along many others. I am most anxious to see them return home with one of the prizes, and believe they will do so."

The work of the teams the last week was full of both good and bad. As was announced some time ago the work of the Colts against the Tom Moore at their last meeting, when it will be remembered, the Colts took two games from their adversaries, has led to a match being arranged. Dan Bowlin, who witnessed these games, became an ardent admirer of the Colts, and expressed his opinion that the Colts could do the trick against a remark which the Moore resented by offering to wager $70 to $50 on their team's ability to down the Colts, an offer which Mr. Bowlin has accepted, so the public will now have the pleasure of seeing the two teams come together. The conditions of the match are as follows: The first two games to be bowled on the three alleys, March 23; the last three games to be bowled on Fette's alleys, April 4. In case of a tie the total number of pins to count instead of a "bow" off, as has been erroneously stated before. The line-up of the two teams will be the regular Colts and Rader, Emblem, Hardy, Bickmeyer, Falck and Rader while the Moore will line up their regular "Tom Moore" team instead of the Wheeling, as has been announced by mistake. This includes Cochran, Campbell, Brown, Marchner, Stevenson and Handlan.

Individual averages are as follows: Stuart, Falck, Colts, 51, 178; Emblem, Colts, 63, 176; K. Rader, Colts, 59, 172; Brown, Tom Moore, 1, 170; Sonnsfeld, Tom Moore, 46, 169; E. Beasley, Crescents, 47, 169; Campbell, Tom Moore, 24, 168; Bickmeyer, Colts, 66, 168; W. Wilhelm, Lenox, 64, 168; Marchner, Tom Moore, 39, 167; Handy, Colts, 61, 167; Weisell, Tom Moore, 19, 165; Handlan, Tom Moore, 35, 164; Butler, Crescents, 44, 164; Reed, Colts, 51, 161; Gaston, Crescents, 57, 161; Knig, Crescents, 57, 160; Fox, Crescents, 5, 160; Nolte, Tom Moore, 21, 160; Witthelm, Buckeyes, 48, 158; Gray, Lenox, 36, 158; Cochran, Tom Moore, 36, 157; Henning, Brownies, 30, 157; Davis, Tom Moore, 6, 155; Fugate, Daisies, 61, 154; W. BELLARE HAPPENINGS.

Matters of Interest in the Metropolis of Belmont County.

The election of ex-Sheriff W. N. Darby as warden of the Ohio penitentiary, was received by his friends in this home city, and in other parts of the county with much interest. Mr. Darby had secured endorsements and made application for a place on the board of managers, but Governor Nash could not see his way clear to appoint him on the board, there were so many good men applicants for the three places to be filled. In going over the endorsements and conferring with the board and his friends, however, the wardenship entered the governor's mind and he suggested it. At first Mr. Darby was disposed to decline, actually said he would not have it, but he reconsidered and finally landed the place upon the suggestion of the governor. He was well backed by friends all over the state, and will fill the position to the full satisfaction of the powers that be.

Democratic Primaries.

The Democratic primaries Saturday evening were attended by about half the number of voters that attended the primaries a week before. The contest for the nomination for mayor resulted in the selection of Frank Williams over John Baugh, by only eleven votes. For marshal, M. G. Lynskey received the full vote, 333; solicitor, Fred Spriger, 279; treasurer, C. C. Crowder, 336; city commissioner, Isaac H. Myers, 182; P. L. Maloney, 157; water works trustee, C. L. Driggs, 229; Albert Horn, 327; board of education, H. P. Rodewig, 327; John McGraw, 321; both nominated. The township ticket named was as follows: Justices, Frank J. Smith and Dr. Porterfield; trustees, (three years), Glenbert Nelson for two years, Sherman Glasgow; clerk, W. H. Hart; constable, Oliver Jones. The ward nominations were as follows: For Council—First ward, Joseph Piersol; Second, John McKelvey; Third, Fred Wassman; Fourth, Joseph Glasser; Fifth, John M. Crouse. For Assessors—First ward, P. L. Lowman; Second, James Conners; Third, Fred Gatchers; Fourth, W. A. Luke; Fifth, J. S. Lockwood; township, Robinson Workman; West Wheeling, D. A. Craig.

The result of these primaries makes the election of the Republican ticket a practical certainty. Mr. Baugh would not have been a candidate for mayor had he known his competitor would come out, and announced himself when there was no other candidate.

Bellare Briefs.

The avidity with which the public took the reserved seats for the opening night of the Columbia theatre, was astonishing. All of the seats down stairs were sold within an hour after the chart was exhibited, and many of the balcony seats. It is one of Frohman's best plays, and the new opera house people hope to satisfy the public because of the splendid support accorded them.

Cook Danford, the Republican nominee for city solicitor, was the last of the Young Men's Club to go down in the spelling contest with the ladies at the First Presbyterian church, but the young ladies won. They brought the prize winner from Rock Hill.

The city lock-up was wide open yesterday and got an airing in every cranny and corner, not an occupant having been landed Saturday night.

Alex. J. Radabaugh has been notified by the war department that the body of his son, who died in the Philippines, will be shipped home by the government as soon as practicable.

Rev. John A. Wilson, professor of church history in Allegheny Theological Seminary, filled the pulpit in the United Presbyterian church yesterday.

Prof. Riccardo Ricci, assisted by ladies from Wheeling, will give a music recital in the Christian church this evening.

The ministerial association will meet this forenoon at the home of Rev. J. A. Fisher, of the Christian church.

A musical programme will be given in the parlors at the Windsor hotel tomorrow evening.

D. H. Darrah and brother Dan, spent Sunday with Marietta friends and relatives.

The good government people talk now of only nominating a mayor and marshal.

MARTIN'S FERRY NEWS.

The Daily Chronicle of Wheeling's Progressive Neighbor.

The Democrats of this city met Saturday night at Scheehle's hall, for the purpose of naming their city ticket. The attendance was fair and the noise made would have indicated a crowd two or three times the size of the one present. W. T. Dixon was chosen president, and Frank Elbert, secretary. The following ticket, which they claim is a strong one, was made up after considerable difficulty in several places, to secure candidates that would allow their names to be used:

Mayor—W. B. Francis.
Marshal—Ellis (Stump) Clark.
City Solicitor—George Cooke.
City Commissioner—Amos Faxon.
City Treasurer—William Hildebrand.
Water Works Trustee—George Beck.
Electric Light Trustee—Thomas Gow.
Board of Education—John A. Wilson and Albert Graham.
First Ward—Council, William Ellis, Assessor, Smory Profit.
Second Ward—Council, George Clifford, Assessor, Samuel Milligan.
Third Ward—Council, James Bayless, Assessor, Mark Lewis.
Fourth Ward—Council, Jesse Selby, Assessor, James S. Mitchell.
Fifth Ward—Council, Thomas Dobbin, Assessor, Edward Withers.

Township Nominations.

The Democrats of Pease township met Saturday afternoon at the city building, and named a full ticket. Ross Jordan was chosen presiding officer, and Robert secretary. Following is the township ticket:

Justice of Peace—George B. Hathaway.
Township Clerk—Baker Boyd.
Township Trustee—George Krim.
Constables—Thomas Cochran, Albert Conaway.

Robbers in Town.

Robbers made their appearance in this city early yesterday morning, but from all reports, to no avail. About 1 o'clock yesterday morning the family of Fred Dixon, residing on North Fourth street, were awakened by a noise at the back part of the house. While endeavoring to locate from what part of the house the noise came, the thieves had heard the footsteps on the inside and were frightened away. Mr. Dixon, upon entering one of the back rooms upstairs, saw a ladder at the window, but upon raising the window no person was to be seen. The ladder had been carried from across the alley and was the property of Jesse Selby. It is thought the family was awakened by the thieves attempting to pry open the window. Nothing was missing and no damage was done.
